Of Seniors and Memories

From out the past come memories
As Spartan seniors take their final steps . . .
And golden years of learning seem to blend
And fade into each other
As eyes mist over when the Alma Mater plays
And seniors march in their Recessional.
The school looks on from half a century
Of work well done and yet continuing . . .
And smiles a little at its memories,
Salutes its seniors, set for what life will bring,
And facing forward, goes to work again.

Sharon,
Best wishes to you for a wonderful life
of happiness & Success.
Always

Winter Class of 1959

On February 2, 1955, 96 freshmen entered Sparta, and the class of W'59 had its beginning. "Big" high school students, the frosh were welcomed by the older and bigger juniors and seniors, and for the first time, Coton-'n-Cord, rooters tickets, service cards, and Sports Night became familiar terms.

The girls all had big sisters, and were honored at a "Spartanette Sweetheart" party which provided their first glimpse of the Social Hall.

The class was honored at the "Heart Patrol Hop" Howdy, where Janet Gail and Ernie Hughes were crowned king and queen. Tri-Hi-Hops first began this term, and the fall semester of the freshman year found class members enjoying the group's first Sadie, "Moonlight Capers."

As sophomores, class members enjoyed being one notch higher on the scholastic scale. Paula Reece was elected student body historian, and went on to become commissioner of awards while Pat Gilmore took over the historian post.

The first Iowa tests were taken. Fire swept through the gym.

Upperclassmen at last! Rich Lincourt was elected class president, and Martha Martin and Everett Irwin were the first members of the class to be elected to Phoenix. Walt Kurtz and Gene Watts were active in school plays.

Senior A officers, W'59. Seated: Jim Patillo, Pat Gilmore, Marialice Hedgcock. Standing: Luther Sprouse, Ralph Arriola.

Serving as class officers during the Corinthians' Senior B semester were Paula Ward, Marialice Hedgcock, and Martha Martin, seated; Norman Cluff, kneeling; John Torrey, standing.

With the help of Mr. Sam Sachs, Junior sponsor, the class selected Corinthians as its name, and Darrell O'Leary's emblem to grace the red sweaters.

As Senior B's, Corinthian girls took part in Girls' Week, representing their school in business and the community.

In the Senior A semester, Corinthian Richard Lincourt served as student body president and Martha Martin as vice-president, while Sandy Johnson and Norm Cluff headed the League and Forum. Paula Ward was in charge of Talent Nominating Committee.

Corinthians were playing on the field and rooting in the stands as the football team took the Eastern League championship. Basketball, cross country and all the other sports provided good times. Beach parties, snow parties, the Senior picnic and Reception, the "Turkey Trot" . . . all times to be remembered.

Four years of learning, leadership, and good times made the Corinthians stay at Sparta truly golden.

Ephebians, W'59: Martha Martin; Miss Roberta Albert, sponsor; Sandy Johnson.

Ephebians

Ephebian membership, one of the highest honors given by the Los Angeles City Schools, is limited to one senior for each forty graduates, and given on the basis of school service and promise for future civic leadership.

Ephebians remain members for life, and their ranks include prominent men and women throughout California and the nation. New members can look forward confidently, after a golden beginning, to lives that promise outstanding service and achievement.

Seniors Look Back...

Sealbearers

A golden seal on graduation diplomas marks those named as Sealbearers of the California Scholarship Federation, an honor earned through maintaining scholarship standards (a minimum of three A's and one B in subjects other than physical education) for at least four semesters beyond the freshman year, one of these during the senior year.

At the end of each semester an assembly honors these Sealbearers and other members of the Scholarship Society, and the special seal on the diplomas serves as final tribute to years of dedication, effort, and service.

Sparta is proud of outstanding students, and the Corinthians can be proud of their Sealbearer graduates.

February Graduates Showed Talent

Summer Class of 1959

The S'59 class took its first step on the "Stairway to the future" when its members entered Huntington Park's halls on September 13, 1955. Jerilyn Saunders and Dennis Young ruled as gridiron sweethearts at the "Howdy Halftime," held in honor of the Robin Thurman led through the first year, remem- "fresh" freshmen. Class president two semesters, bered for a hilarious faculty talent assembly, the Spring Carnival, and a devastating $250,000 fire in the gym.

Mr. Noble Waite took Sparta's helm as the class advanced to sophomores, and the class assembled at a merry "Who's Who?" masquerade, planned by president Ray Scudder. Sophs sponsored one of the most successful Sports Nights ever held, and Huntington Park's "splinter heaven" bleachers came down as new gray steel ones rose to grace Reeder Field.

Elevated to upperclassmen, the juniors, guided by president Ray Scudder, carried on a basketball attendance contest, awarding a trophy to the winning class. "Santa's Swing" made the holiday season enjoyable for those in attendance at the Christmas party.

Spartan juniors invited those of Bell High to a dance, and Wendell Waite officiated during this semester when Delphians and kelly green became the name and color to adorn the graduates of S'59.

Senior A officers, S'59. Seated: Marilyn Waitman, Gloria Murphy, Merle Johnson. Kneeling: Don Osborne, Wally Harris, president.

Millie Fillers, first foreign exchange student from Huntington Park, spent a summer in Norway, while Marilyn Miller, Gary Cox, Dick Bailey, Marty Vago, Wendell Waite, and Wally Harris stayed in California's capital at Girls' and Boys' State.

Ascending the steps of scholarship and activity, Delphians reached the senior level. Mais Desvaux, a petite French miss, joined the class as foreign exchange student. Ray Scudder headed the student body as president; Marilyn Miller guided Girls' League activities; annual editor Dena Garber directed the El Recuerdo staff; the G.A.A. grew under president Jeanette Carter, and yell king Jim Bradley promoted school spirit. Working for the student body were Vice-President Dale Stirling, Treasurer Janet Shoopman, Commissioner of Elections Donna Thrasher, and Commissioner of Noon Broadcasts LeRoy Lindsey.

As the final semester of precious memories ends, a Sparta of fifty years salutes her graduates as together they enter a golden age of the "Stairway to the Future."

Ephebians

The Ephebian Society was founded by the Los Angeles superintendent of schools in 1918, and designed to honor service and to recognize potential civic leadership among high school graduates.

Applicants are required to meet high standards, and seniors and faculty members then vote to elect one student for each 40 graduates to the honor of Ephebian membership. Sparta is proud of its seven Delphian Ephebians.

Seniors Face the Future...

Sealbearers

Sealbearers of the California Scholarship Federation, with Mrs. Helen Rineman, college advisement coordinator, as sponsor, are Sparta's strongest seniors in learning.

Delphians and all Spartans can be proud of the twenty S'59 graduates who will bear on their diplomas the golden seal which testifies that they have maintained scholarship grades of at least three A's and one B for four semesters beyond the freshman year, and including one semester as a senior.

Scholarship President Marco Yzuel maintained a straight A average, and plans to attend Stanford on a $10,000 Aero-Jet scholarship. Other Sealbearers boast records almost as strong, and have plans of equal importance to their country's future.

Of School and Guidance

"What is the purpose of a school?"
Our founders asked, some 50 years ago.
And though the question still is heard today
From thoughtful men, and critics too,
The guides of Sparta's destiny have mapped a course
Along the pathways blazed by men who knew
That education is the one true goal,
And education is to learn to use the tools
Which man has found are indispensable.

Sharon
It has been a pleasure knowing you
& I wish you the best of luck in the future.
History was my favorite subject and I hope you do well in it.
Keep your chin up
Always remember
Bob Hilbig

Whether we are thinking of the fullness of our Sparta's history, or the few years that each of us is privileged to spend here at Huntington Park High School, Sparta's years are truly golden!

Here we have grown in our understanding and appreciation of life. Here we have given and received the gift of friendship. Here we have gained that quality so highly admired in ancient Sparta: self-discipline.

For five decades Huntington Park High School has been a major influence in the lives of the youth of our community and nation. Our graduates, many of them now the leaders of our community, continue to regard Sparta with respect and affection. May the graduates of '59, tomorrow's leaders, treasure their golden years, and share in Sparta's future history.

—Stuart Stengel
Principal

Willard Goodhue
Boys' Vice-Principal

In this, the fiftieth year for Huntington Park High School, we can all be very proud of the tremendous accomplishments that our students and alumni have attained.

Our graduates have gone out into all walks of life, and have brought great credit to Sparta. And it is at Huntington Park that the embryonic thoughts of careers began to grow into definite goals for the thousands of graduates of our school, and paths of preparation were chosen.

Truly, these have been "Golden Years" for Sparta. And just as surely, years of attainment for our students and graduates.

All of us have many wonderful traditions and examples to honor and parallel—and exceed if possible —in the coming years.

All of us must do our best to make the next fifty years of Spartan history even more glorious than the first fifty have been.

—Willard Goodhue
Boys' Vice-Principal

Gold has always been synonymous with wealth. The Golden Years of Sparta are the years filled with the wealth of experience, of traditions, and of dreams fulfilled.

The greatest wealth of all is the wealth of human effort—of talents, ambitions, work, personal contributions much more important than monetary offerings. The greatest wealth of all is your pride in your school, your cooperation, your loyalty— all that you have given to Sparta while you have been with us. These are the things that make your school rich.

And rich, indeed, is the Spartan who has shared in all this for years, giving as well as receiving. For you the golden years of Sparta have already been translated into golden years of personal opportunity. What you have contributed to your school has come back to you swiftly in the form of personal growth and development.

We say goodbye to the class of S'59 with sadness.

We'll never know quite how golden will be your opportunity or how rich the reward for your service. We are proud, though, to have shared with you the Golden Years of Sparta.

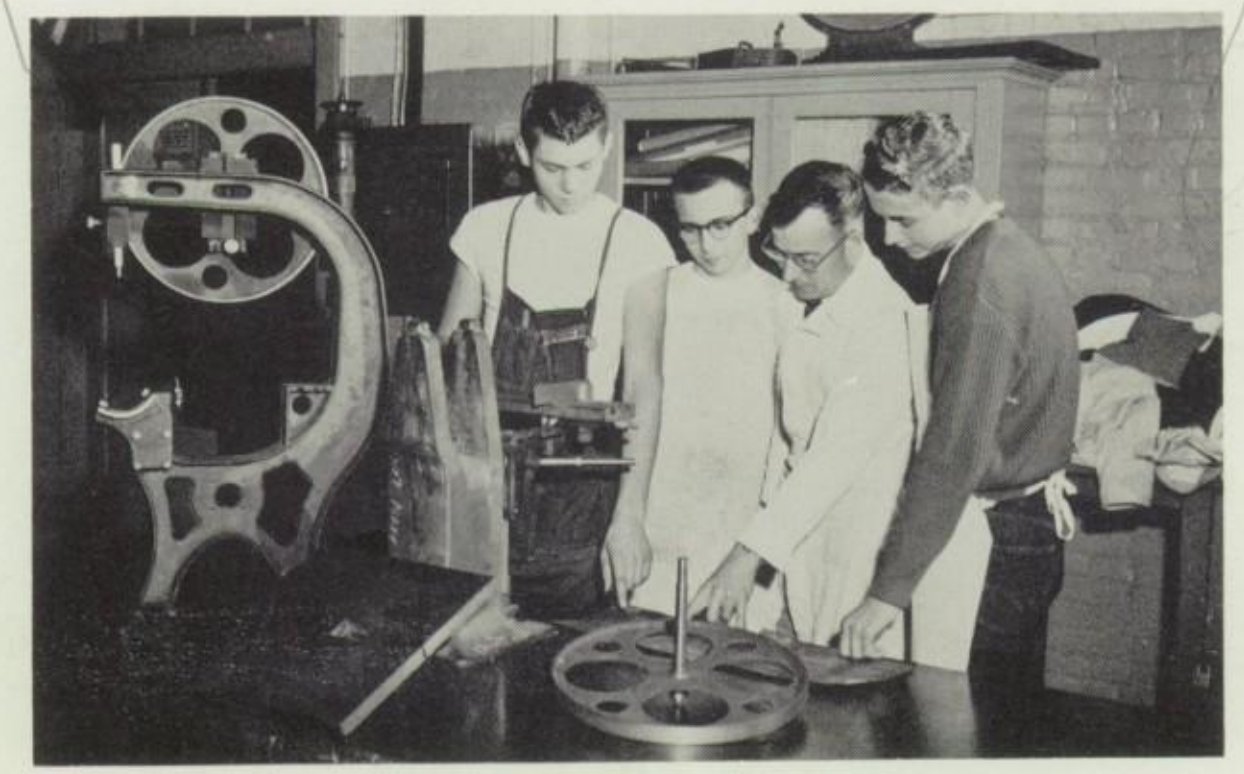
Through Golden Years of Learning

Of Old and New in Teaching

The old—
In knowledges unchanged across the years,
The priceless heritage from ages past
Of freedom and its meanings.
In values of tradition
And the Golden Rule.
The new—
In added knowledges expanding,
Horizons widening, problems still to come.
In new techniques, approaches . . .
Newer ways to face new challenges
In a brave new world.



Sparta Proud of History, Achievements

Across Her Golden Years . . .

A half a century is not long in the reckoning of the ages, but to a school it's long enough . . . Fifty years is a week end to a redwood tree, but to a California school it's many graduations . . . Fifty years is a twinkle to a star, but to a school it's time enough to teach three full generations the meaning of words like "freedom" and "democracy" and "America"—and to give those generations the skills and attitudes that help to make their nation strong.

Since its establishment in September of 1909 Huntington Park High School—which became a part of the Los Angeles City Schools in 1932—has graduated thousands of students. Each year now adds almost 400 names to a list which started from a 1909 enrollment of 35 and began with one graduate in 1910.

The 1910 graduate, Mrs. Olive (Pettus) McClung, went on from Sparta to the State Normal School, later to be known as U.C.L.A. She entered teaching, and retired as a teacher at Carmelita Junior High a couple of years ago. She and her husband, a former teacher at Gage Junior High, are enjoying their retirement in a desert home in the Lancaster-Palmdale area.

From a rather limited curriculum in Mrs. McClung's high school days, Huntington Park has expanded its course offerings and services across its 50 golden years. Art, music, homemaking, industrial arts and physical education have taken their place with the more traditional academic school offerings—though Huntington Park's continued emphasis on the academic is evidenced in the college records of its graduates, and its students' many scholarships, awards and honors. (A first place national leadership award, two first place Bank of America awards, and a $10,000 Aerojet scholarship were won this year.)

Despite destruction by fire in 1911, severe damage by fire and earthquake in 1933, and a third fire which swept throug the gymnasium in 1956, the school has a fine record of accomplishment by its graduates. And its 1900 students are proud of the school and the part it plays in community life.

Graduation portrait of Miss Olive Pettus, Sparta's first graduate, and only graduate of 1910. In the course of her later years of teaching, which ended at Carmelita Junior High, Miss Pettus saw many changes in California schools.

Administrative leadership at Huntington Park has been outstanding.

Mr. Don Pelton, leadership sponsor, and Mrs. Iona Lord and Mr. Walter Heil, former vice-principals, are the latest additions to the list of teachers and administrators who have advanced to higher posts with the Los Angeles City Schools. Mr. Pelton became vice-principal of University High School this year, while Mrs. Lord now serves as principal of Belmont High School and Mr. Heil as principal of LeConte Junior High.

Claude L. Reeves, former Superintendent of Schools served as Sparta's principal for seven years. Everett B. Chaffee, another former principal, is now associate superintendent in the Division of Instructional Services, and Dr. Paul

The former Miss Pettus married Mr. Samuel H. McClung, a teacher at Gage Junior High, and both are now retired and living in a desert home in the Lancaster-Palmdale area. Her interest in her high school has continued across the years.

E. Webb, a former vice-principal, became principal of Los Angeles High School and later an assistant superintendent.

Mr. Richard Nida and Mr. Noble Waite, Huntington Park's most recent principals, are now serving as principal of Hamilton High School and assistant to the president of Brigham Young University respectively.

Graduates of the school include such Southeast business men as Garold and Harold Raff, jewelers and optometrists, Kenneth Sopp of Sopp Chevrolet, and Al and Bob Wineman of Wineman's Department Store.

Civic leaders such as Assemblyman George Willson, former Mayors Bill Kirkland, Delbert Cox and Kermit Bill, many council members, and many members of the police and fire departments and other governmental agencies are high school in Redlands.

On the Spartan faculty itself are five former students: Coach Ray Harris, physical education chairman; Mrs. Clara Harris, substitute this year in English and social studies; Mrs. Joan Ramsey, science; Dr. C. E. Stirdivant, social studies instructor and curriculum coordinator; and Dr. Boyd Lindop, journalism and English instructor.

Several members of the Trotter family, graduates of the high school, have followed the path of their father, the Reverend Fred Trotter into the ministry.

Conrad Ullerich, first winner of a $4800 scholarship to Columbia University, is in law in Arizona. And John Loomis, a straight A student in high school, is also in the law field.

Son of Mr. George Culbertson, retired faculty member who died

Painters work to freshen Spartan halls as the fiftieth birthday nears, and a new industrial arts building is scheduled to rise in the near future. The buildings and campus are rightful cause for community pride.

Spartan alumni and cheered Huntington Park's orange and gray banner in their high school days.

In education, Earl Bolton, student body president in 1937, is vice-president of USC. His debating companion, Wally Fraser, is an M.D., and another student leader of that period, Dr. Edwin C. ("Bing") Bingham is teaching in the humanities field at the University of Oregon.

Others in education include Bob Kerley, at the University of California in Berkeley; Mrs. Eva Kirby, girls' vice-principal at Van Nuys High; Dr. H. Russell Paine, instructor of journalism at East Los Angeles; Virginia Campbell, El Recuerdo editor of 1936, now teaching in Redlands; and Mr. Bob Campbell, principal of a junior Huntington Park's first student body, 1909-1910, could hardly have anticipated the school's growth in 50 years as they met on the second floor of a brick building at the corner of Randolph and Pacific. The future Mrs. McClung, first graduate, is the second girl from the left in the row standing, and the whole student body of those days would make one good-sized social studies or English class today.

this year, Bob Culbertson went on from Sparta to U.S.C., and then spent twelve years with the State Department in Washington, D.C., three of these years as director of the Point 4 program for Latin America. He went from the State Department to work with the Ford Foundation, and has recently held the position of vice-president of the American University in Cairo, Egypt.

Miss Florine Ray, daughter of a pioneer family, holds a responsible position with the Huntington Park branch of the Security-First National Bank. Barbara Swain is a home economist with the Edison Company. Pat Stevens and Gay (Elliott) Ufholtz, girls who were elected student body president; Howard Ploessel, who still has several swimming records that stand after his graduation and years of service as Sparta's lifeguard; Foy Draper, Olympic relay team member with Jesse Owens, Ralph Metcalfe and Frank Wykoff—the list of successful graduates is almost inexhaustible.

Huntington Park is proud if its traditions, of its graduates, of its present students, and of the leadership of its faculty and administration. A school with a great past, it looks forward to even greater achievements in the future, and to establishing new records in its second 50 years.

. . . And in Its Ideals.

Drop drills, the Red Cross course in Child Care, voting in official election booths for student body officers, Sparta's spacious grounds and 1900 friendly students . . . all recorded for the El Recuerdo in Huntington Park's fiftieth year, all new and strange to students of 1909.

Thespians. Kneeling: Bettie Sechrist, Gene Watts, Dolores Castillo. Standing: Dee Ann Lipscomb, Marsha Moode, Penny Woodward, Carolene Brenner, Joy Ludwig, Mr. John Dorand, sponsor.

Thespians

Thespians is the national drama honorary, sponsored at Huntington Park by Mr. John Dorand, advanced drama instructor. Theater parties, participation in the Christmas and Thanksgiving assemblies, presentation of one-act plays such as "Bad Day at Bleak Creek," and work on the spring play, "Father of the Bride," were among highlights of activity for the group. Several Thespians also took part in the Pasadena Playhouse Tournament.

Stage and Sound Crew Operators

Under the able sponsorship of Mr. Kenneth Gray, wood shop instructor, the combined forces of Stage and Sound Crew meet as a class second period, and are on hand for every assembly to make the programs more pleasant and enjoyable. Stage crew manager Fred Robertson and sound crew manager Robert Whimpey also guide their groups in setting up equipment or background settings for athletic events, sports nights and dances.

Stage and Sound Crew. Kneeling: Charles Fincher, Larry Shields, Charles Walz, Manuel Lizarraga, Dan Born. Standing: Michael Davis, Ben King, Carl Bos, Ronald Johnson, Robert Stirling, Fred Robertson (stage manager), Mr. Kennith Gray, sponsor.

. . . That Teamwork Builds Success . . .

Production Work

Enjoyment of the spring play, "Father of the Bride," was made possible by work of groups on these pages. Programs, publicity posters, stage design, sound, acting, blended into the production. Student director Bill Bauserman conducts a rehearsal for actors Colin Chambers, Ada Langley, Penney Woodward, Mary Ross, Richard Elrod and Sharon Grimm, kneeling; and a bulletin display board in the hall illustrates the variety of activities calling for art production publicity.

Editor Dena Garber and her El Recuerdo staff have done their best to produce an interesting record of Sparta's golden years. They hope that you enjoy and are proud of your annual.

Participation in Activities

Of Clubs and Activities

True Spartans take a pride in clubs
And planned activities of school
Which serve, or guide, or interest . . .
And have done so for now these many years,
Some almost since the school began.
In clubs, activities true Spartans learn
To work together, make new friends,
Build interests for future years of gold.

Language Clubs Have Important Role

Sparta's three strong language clubs are sponsored by Mr. Manuel Rodriguez, Mr. Don Feser, and Mr. Thompson Uhlman, and are designed to build interest in the arts of communication, in language itself, and in international good will through increased knowledge and understanding.

Sine Nomine's Roman Banquet, the French Club Mardi Gras, and Los Amigos Christmas party and visits to Spanish movies are typical of activities that are social in nature but aid to promote better understanding of foreign languages and peoples.

Many Spartans will make "golden voyages" to other lands, and certainly their knowledge of other nations and their peoples will be most valuable in such circumstances. In any case, the understanding of languages and customs promoted through classroom study and club work becomes most important in the battle for the "minds of men," and language clubs merit strong support.

Future Clubs Serve Students

As with the language clubs, Sparta has three active "future" clubs this year, which plan a variety of meetings, field trips, and other activities to interest and inform students and develop increased knowledge and understanding of career requirements and possibilities.

Future Business Leaders of America and Future Teachers of America are affiliates of national high school groups, and Future Medics stresses the growing importance of the fields of medicine and nursing.

Sparta's counselors and teachers are well aware of the values of an early vocational choice, and the future clubs form only one of many avenues of information on careers from agriculture to zoology.

Wide vocational preparation is one of the goals of the modern high school, and information on career opportunities is one of the responsibilities which the high school accepts.

Future Medics

Mr. Don Myers sponsors Future Medics, with Judy Porter as president. The members enjoy such events as winter and spring socials, and attend the annual Science Fair at the County Museum. Tradition also brings golden memory in an annual banquet featuring past presidents.

. . . And Golden Days Pass by

Future Business

Hazel Sellers ably leads the Future Business Leaders of America as president, with guidance of Mr. Victor Hozduk as sponsor. Members learn by experience to cope with the problems that they will face in the business world of tomorrow.

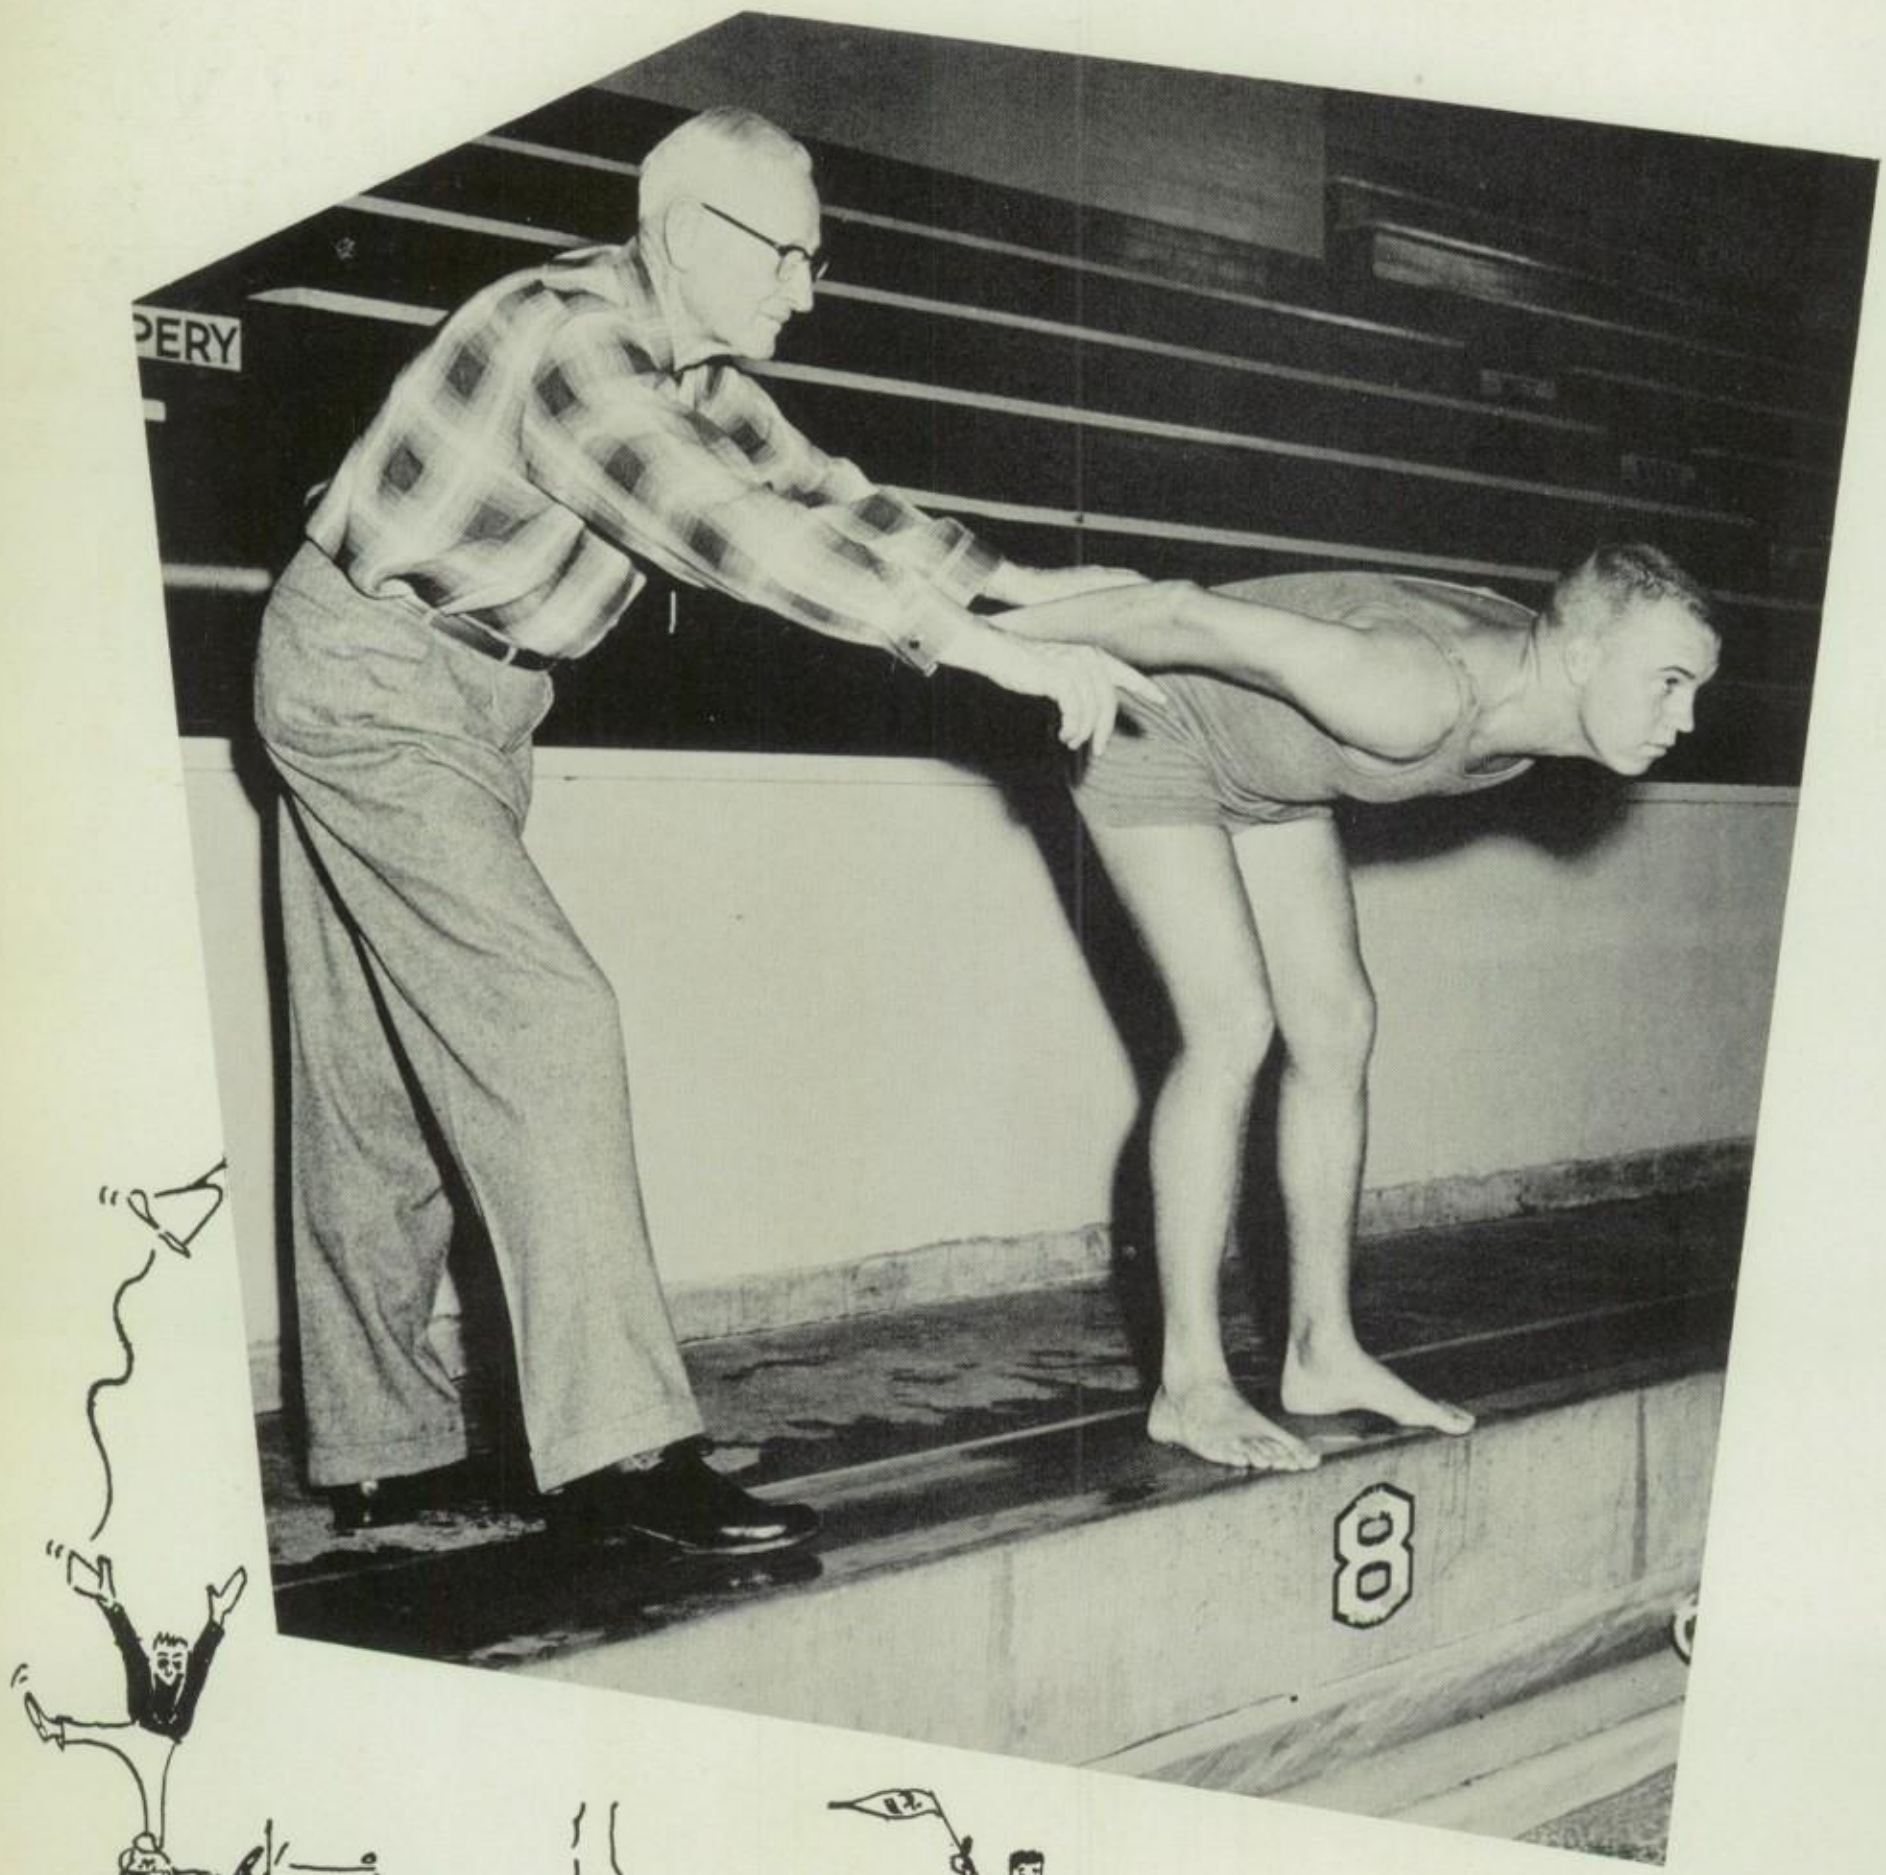
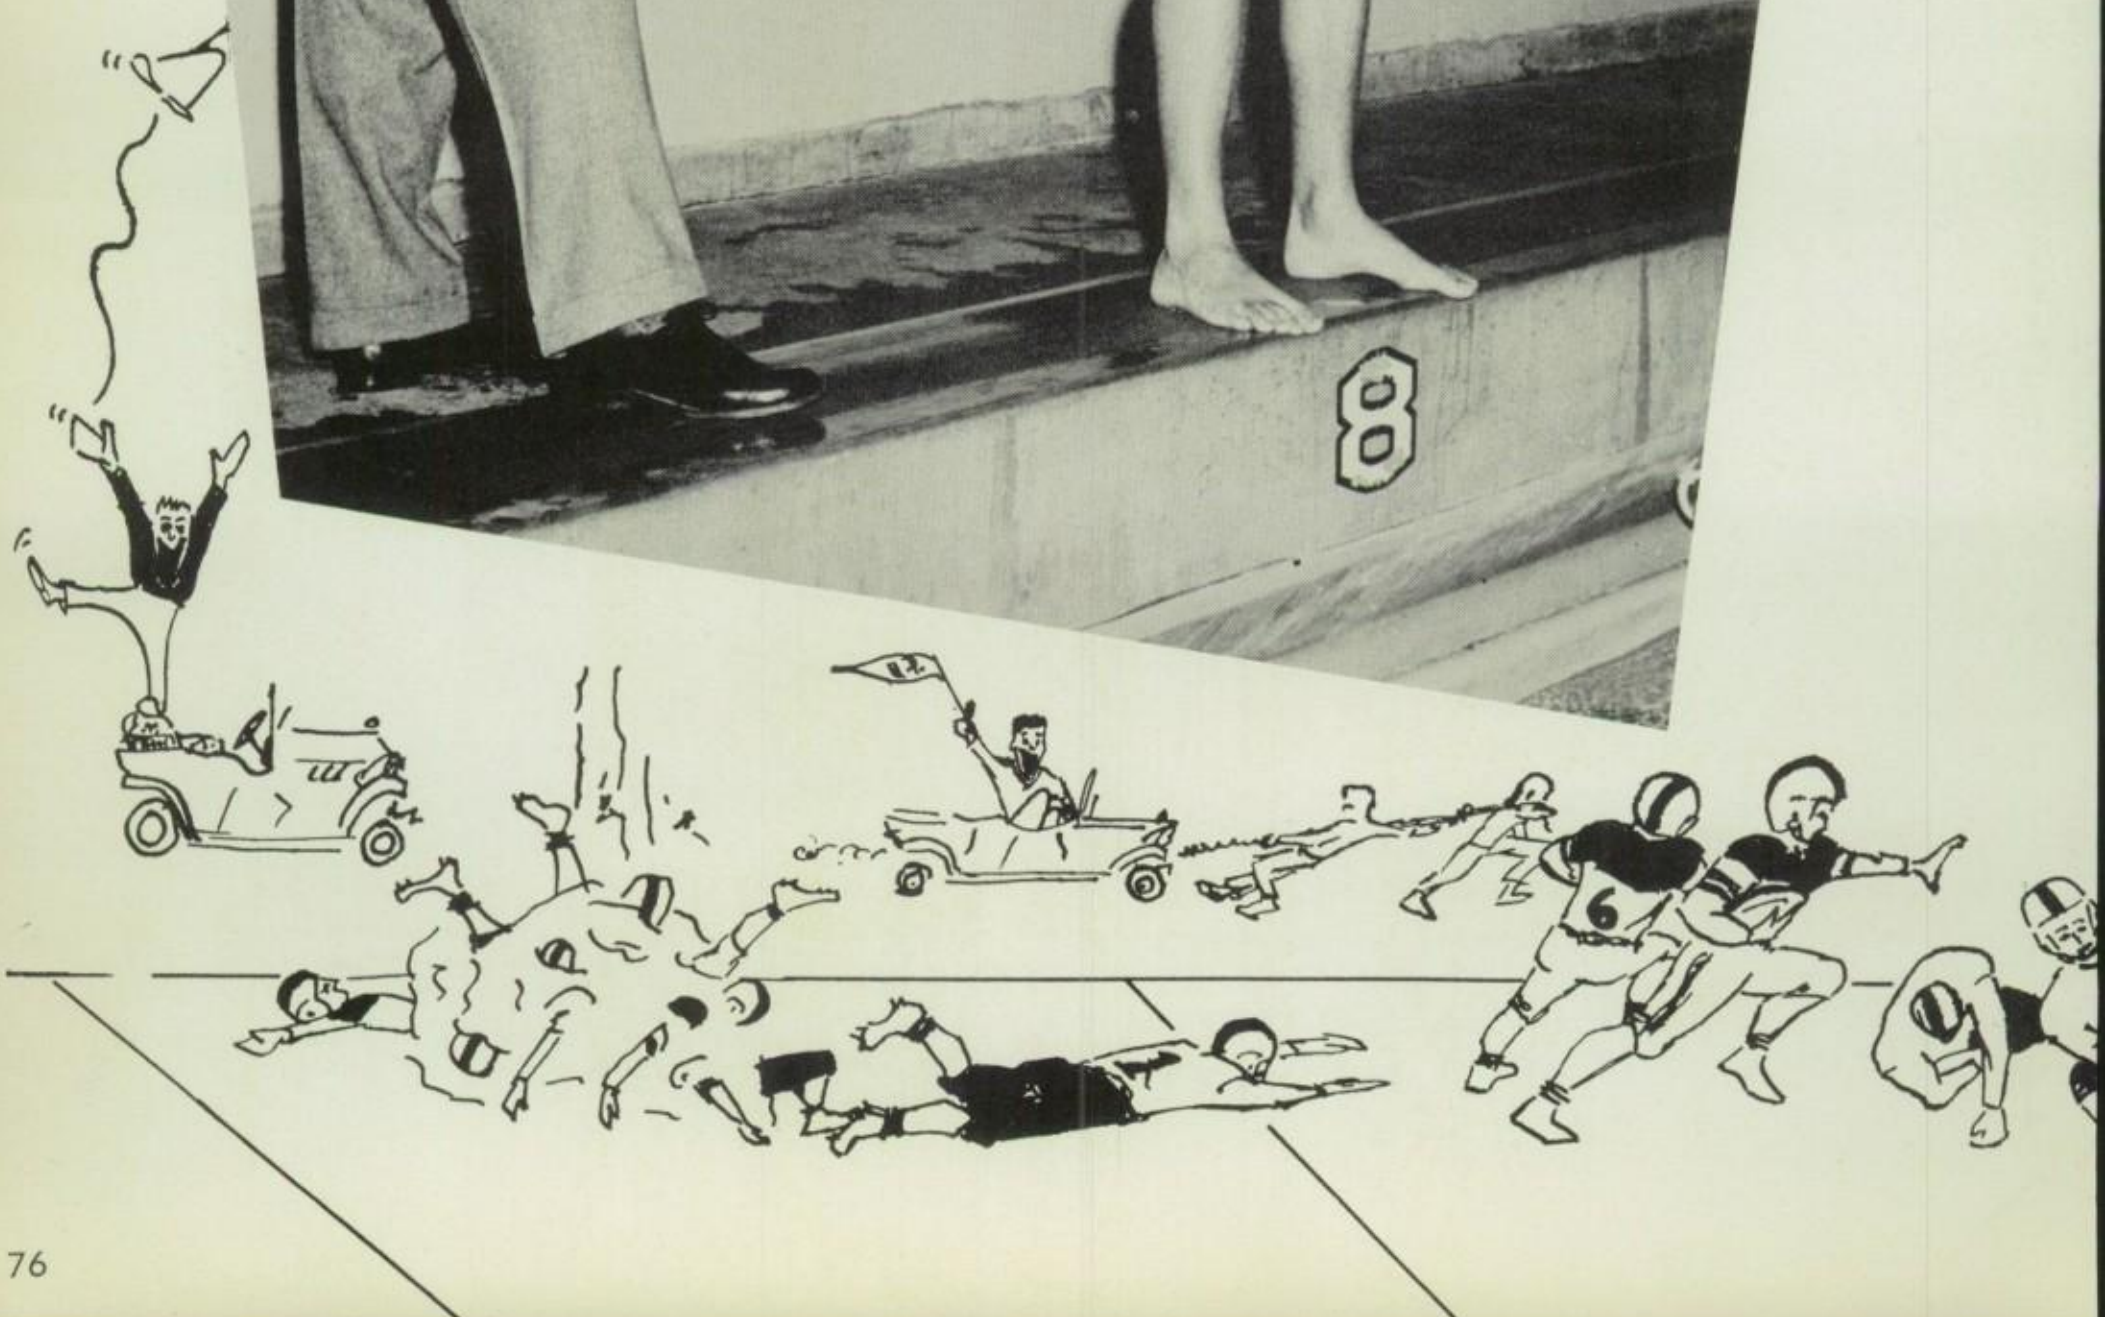
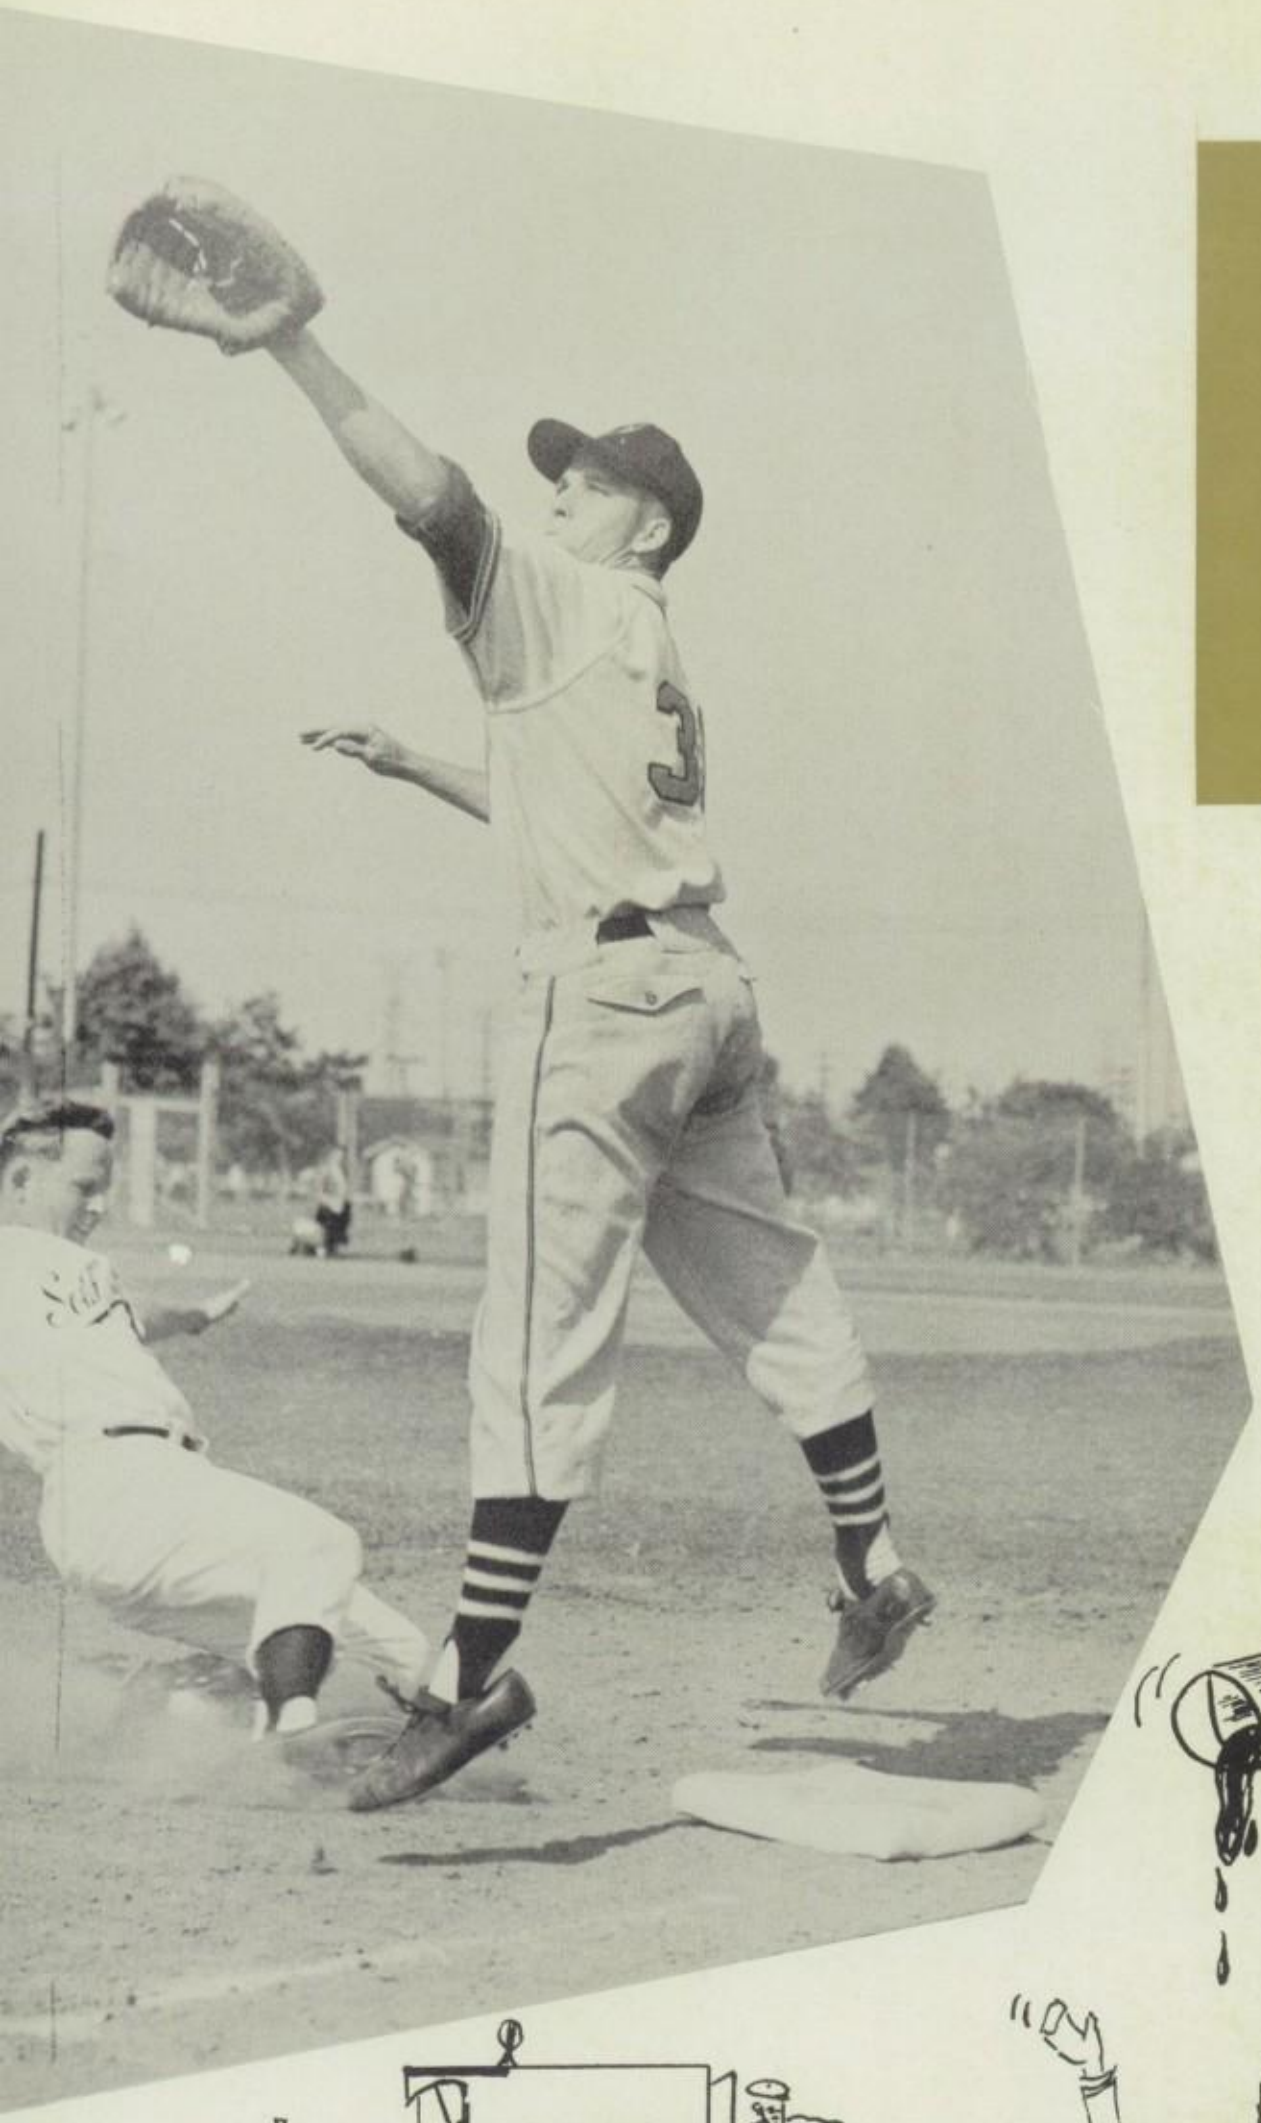
Golden Years in Sports







Of Golden Years in Sports

The golden years in sports
Are made of days of working, striving . . .
Of practice hours, and toil and tears . . .
Of competition and its thrills . . .
Of victory or defeat.
The gold is in the striving and the spirit,
The teams' work and the school's support.
. . . And across the years
We learn of victory without boast
And losing gracefully.

The Fall Sports Picture . . .

Huntington Park's football varsity celebrated the school's anniversary year by successfully defending the Eastern League championship, and gaining its second title in four years of League play. The team now has gone twelve straight games without a defeat in Eastern League competition, and backfield men Larry Campbell, Clarence Ferguson, and Larry Bryan set a school record by gaining over 2000 rushing yards in nine games.

Our first game with Venice brought decisive victory when the Gondoliers invaded Sparta and were defeated 34-7 to celebrate Coach Ray Vernoy's debut as head coach.

Still on home ground Huntington Park won its next game, defeating the highly rated Narbonne Gauchos 21-12, and followed this victory by a 32-0 Milk Bowl victory over the Verdugo Hills Dons to lost its only game of the season, 20-7, but honored Captain Clarence Ferguson and the team for an outstanding 8-1 championship record.

Sparta's Bee team was also in the spotlight, compiling a 4-1 League record, the only defeat coming at the hands of the Roosevelt Roughriders, who went on to take the Eastern championship.

Coach Henry Springer, team captains Cheney Johnson and Ted Wertz, and the student body can be proud of the Bee record of first and second place in Eastern League in the last two years.

Sparta's basketball team had an unfortunate season. Though the hardwooders started the season off by winning two out of three practice games, and had a much better record than last year, they still ended up fourth in League.

League play resulted in a 3-7 record, despite

end the practice season.

Picked to finish third in the Eastern loop, the varsity started defense of its crown by trouncing Garfield 53-7 as Campbell rambled 43 yards for the opening tally. Traditional rival Bell was the second League victim, with Huntington Park clipping the Eagles' wings 20-7.

South Gate's Rams then invaded Reeder Field, and fullback Larry Campbell set a school record of 237 yards gained in 11 carries as Sparta battled to a 27-12 Homecoming victory.

Now in high gear, Sparta played Roosevelt, winning 33-14. This set the stage for a championship battle with the Wilson Mules at East Los Angeles College. There more than 12,000 people saw Sparta come from behind in the second half, with Larry Bryan going 62 yards on a punt return to set up a score, and Larry Cambpell going over twice for a 14-6 victory.

Meeting the North Hollywood Huskies in the semi-finals of the city playoffs, Huntington Park good work by Richard Lincourt, Bob Larity, Jim Herdman, Wendell Waite, Tom Link, Bill O'Dell and other players.

Lincourt, now attending Whittier College, was voted the most valuable player and team captain, and was chosen first string center on the Eastern League team.

The J.V. team finished out the season with the same record as the varsity, 3-7, with Jeff Sweat as captain, and the Bee and Cee teams also finished near the bottom of Eastern League standings.

In cross country, the tenth grade squad took third in Eastern League, but top runner Robin Shifflett was spiked in one of the varsity meets, spoiling city chances.

Varsity captain was Dennis Pugh, with letter men Darrell Anderson, Dan Born, Jerry Pappin, Dennis Pug, Robin Shifflett, Marco Yzuel, and manager Jerry Chatz. JV lettermen were Gilbert Aspeitia, John Burruel, Jack Conlogue, Mike Felt, John Hourian, and Manager Dennis Dover.

Traditional Spring Sports . . .

Sparta did all right in spring sports.

Under the coaching of Mr. Henry Springer and Mr. Robert Chase, Sparta's tracksters finished a disappointing fifth, despite fine performances from Richard Cerullo, Larry Bryan, and Richard Bailey. A lack of depth stymied Sparta, but the school could boast of two Eastern League champions in Richard Cerullo (880) and Larry Bryan (440).

Bailey developed into a good hurdler, with times of 15.1 and 20.0, and an excellent broad jumper. His best leap was 22-8.

Exciting meets came with Bell and Wilson, both of which went to the relay, the final event, for decision. In the Bell meet, ineligibility of several tracksters helped the Eagles cop a 54-50 decision. In the Wilson meet Sparta won 54 1/2 to 47 1/2.

Other highlights of the season came from Don Dobrinen, who cleared 12 feet against Washington, and a 5-11 jump by Dan Wager against Wilson and a 1:59 clocking by Richard Cerullo in the 880 against Roosevelt.

In baseball, at the time of deadline, Coach White's team was having a good season, after a slump for a couple of years. The horsehiders started off the first game by defeating Garfield, last year's Eastern League champions by a score of 3-0 in a thrilling game.

Our second game with Bell, at Bell, was another victory, with Bell faltering 5-1 before Sparta's good hurlers. The next game with South Gate was a hard fought game, which the Spartans lost, after nine innings of play, 2-1. The next game with Roosevelt ended in a 1-8 defeat, but Wilson then bit the dust as the horsehiders took them by a score of 3-2. The next games were lost to Garfield, 2-3, and Bell 0-1. After another nine inning game with South Gate we lost 2-3 when a lucky single drove in South Gate's winning run. The next game, and last before deadline, was a sixteen-inning thriller where H.P.'s nine rode over the Roosevelt Roughriders 4-3.

Sparta's tennis team finished a third this year, after taking the League championship for the last two years. Ray Scudder sparked the racket men to their 7 wins-3 loss record by winning every match but one, which he lost when he pulled a muscle after he was ahead 6-0.

Outstanding members of the tennis team, coached by Mr. Steve Powell, were Ray Scudder, Roger DuPaix, Larry Rolph, Martin Vago, and Jack Tankersley. Fans have high hopes for Ray Scudder in the city playoffs where he took a second place last year.

Swimming teams, directed for the first time by Coach Jack Bobinette, won the triple Marine League crown. Under the able coaching of Mr. Bobinette, the Varsity mermen won their third straight championship. In Marine swim competition they went through six opponents in easy fashion, only Narbonne and San Pedro offering real competition.

Good performances came from breast stroker Bill Long, who completely shattered the school record, and Jim Herdman, who lowered his own record in the 100 yard butterfly. Wally Harris formed the nucleus of the swim team, going through all the sprints in excellent form. Jim Riley proved to be an outstanding free styler, and going through the season undefeated in diving was Doug Soper. Behind him, showing great promise, was Mike Du Browa.

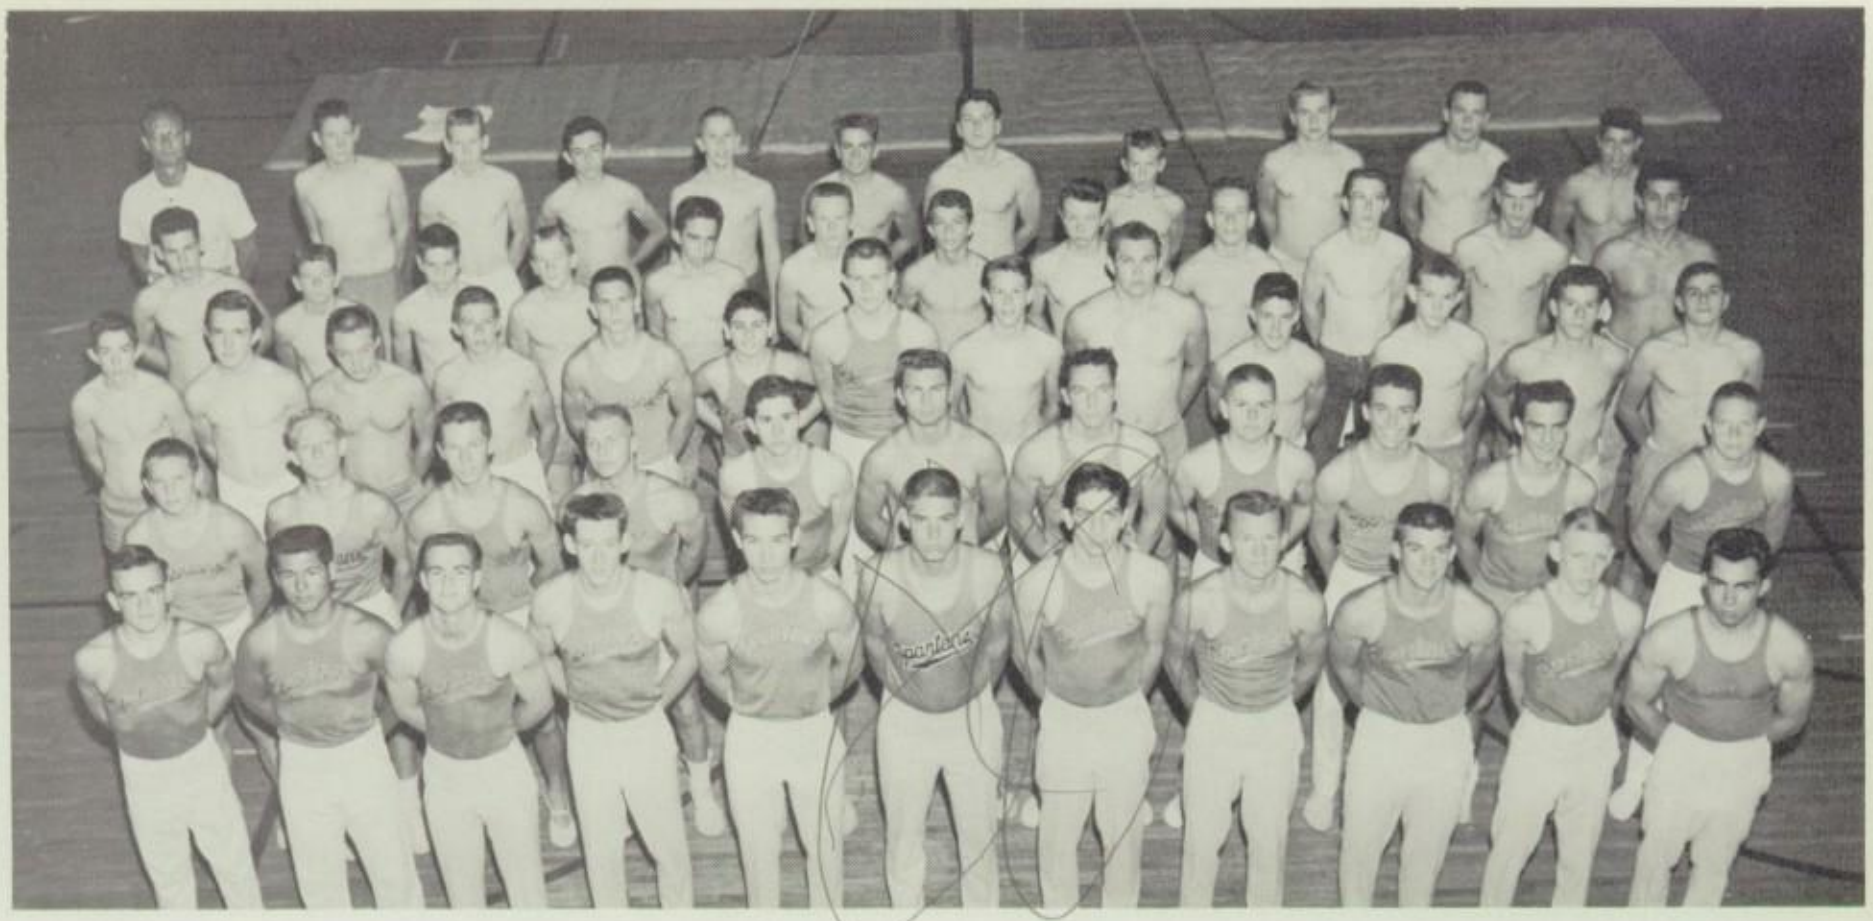
The Bee team also brought home the championship as they went through the entire season undefeated. Freshman Bob Buster set a new school recod in the 200 yard free style.

Leading the Cee's to the Marine League championship was Rudigore Sitka, who lowered the school record in the 100 yard free style.

Sparta's gymnastic team had a disappointing season this year, finishing fourth in league with a 2-3 record. However Sparta did shine individually, with Verle Inman placing third in the high bar and parallel bars in the Eastern League Finals. He also took a fifth on the long horse, and Paul Kelly took third on the side horse and George Malcolm took fourth in the finals.

High point men for the year were Verle Inman and David Olof. Coach Ray Vernoy's outstanding men were Inman, Olof, Moos, Willis, Dobrinen and Malcolm, with Dave Roper as manager.



Gymnastics. First row: George Malcom, Glenn Ferris, Wayne Stevens, Ronnie Jordan, Verle Inman, Paul Kelly, Ken Loar, Dave Olof, Jim Grimes, Bill Willis, Danny Garcia. Dear Mrs. Mellinger

Diane has been wonderful knowing you all these months. It was a lot of fun getting married to the most beautiful and the kindest girl that has ever lived. I can't praise you enough about other; helping when possible and raising a beautiful family. I know you will grow and grow in many ways each day, so look for and leave us with years of happiness and memories. Our differences will iron out and I show your love for me for my money, or good must have been pure love - what more could you ask? I love you! I can't problems in no time at all. But right now we must learn to understand you better each day, and yes, I am learning to cook, sew, clean, and yes, a new experience for both of us. I love you so much and leave even make babies! Have I told you recently? you again soon. As time passes our love will grow and grow. I guess I am just in Together for ever - I'll say in my humble real

Sharon,

I can only wish the very best for you and Kent. I hope I haven't been too dissappointing but I'm pretty dull anyway. I'll probably be seeing quite a bit of you this summer, so so long for now.

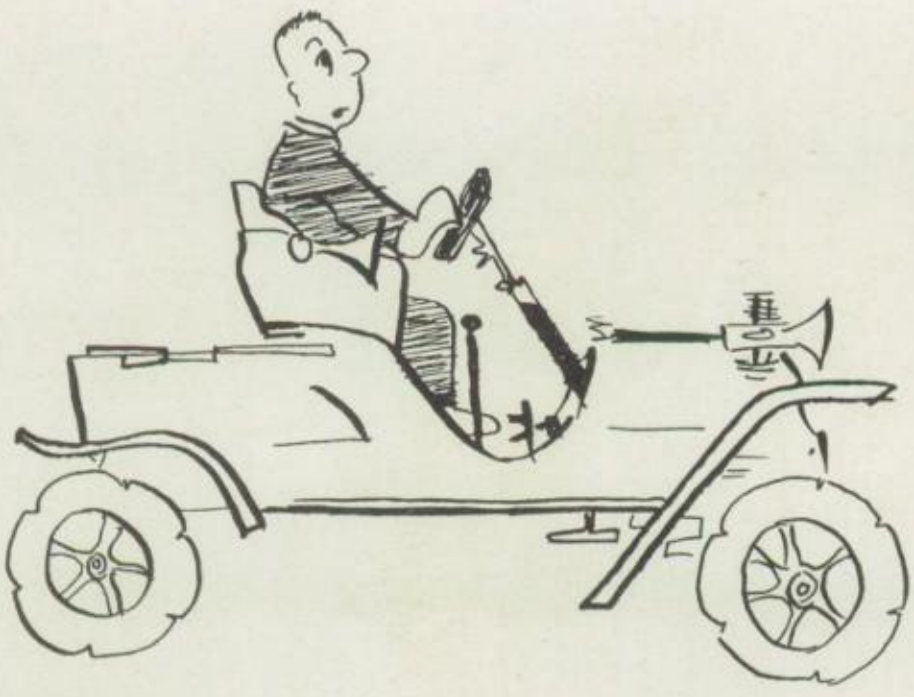
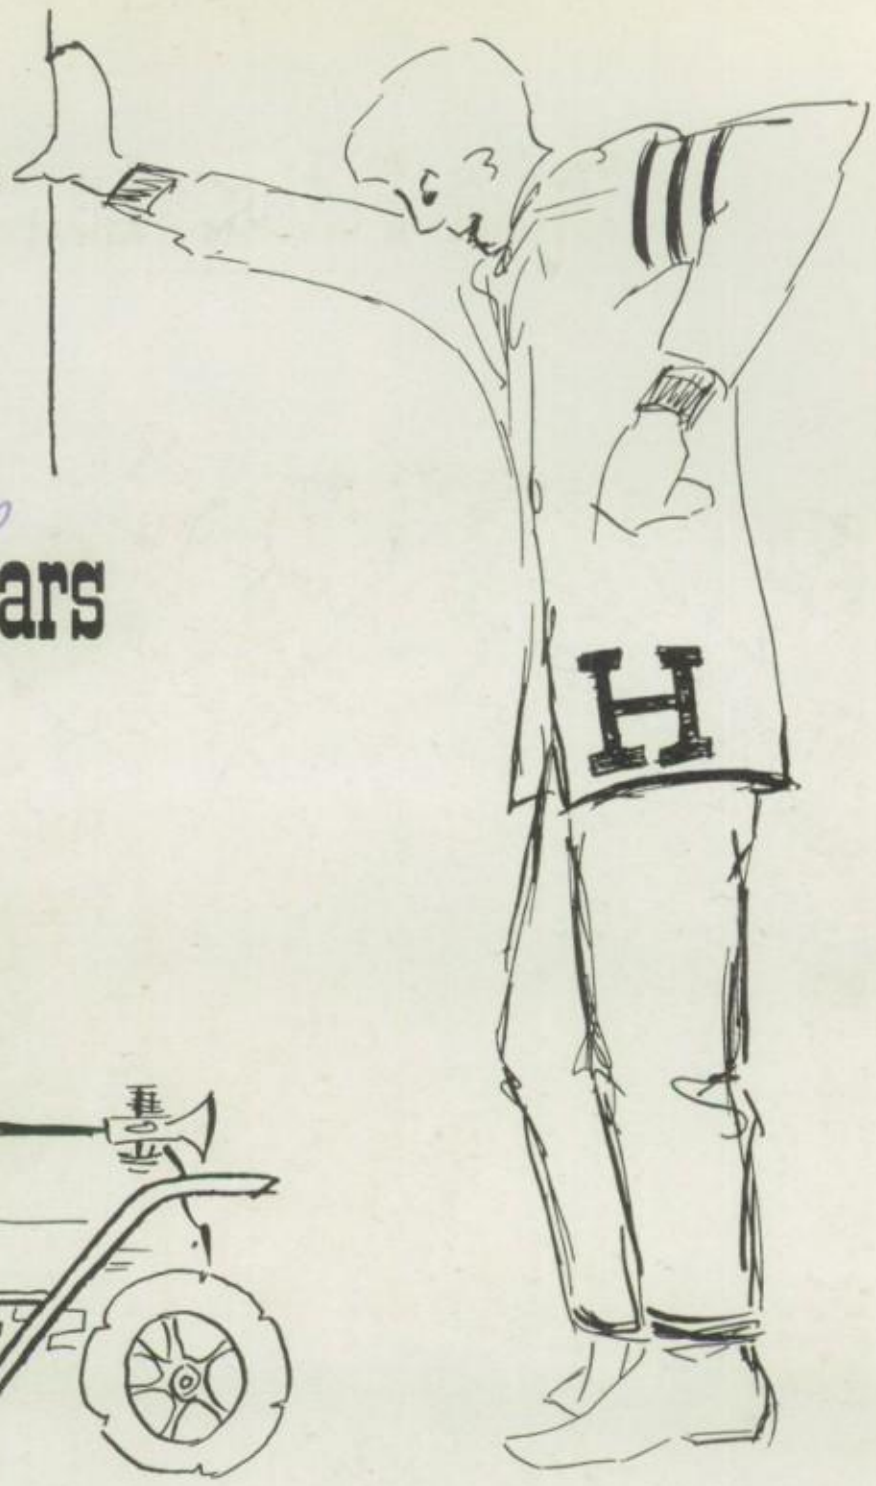
Across Her Golden Years





Of Students and Passing Years

Across the years of Sparta's history
Come leadership and growth in measure great.
And freshmen, sophomores and juniors build
The knowledges and attitudes we need
To keep our nation strong.
The fashions change, the fads, the high school slang . . .
The names reflect the passing years . . .
Yet constant as a star the goals remain:
The Golden Rule in life, the Spartan Code,
Respect for learning, and an open mind.

Sharon
et has been fun knowing you for are these years and hope we can continue our friendship in the years to come
I hope you aren't we be as happy years from now as you are now. I know you excel be. I hope you get to finish high school but I hope you start a family real soon. Lets hope they don't look like gale. I'd feel sorry for such Best of luck friends always

Alfred and Fabris Studio

Mike and Al Treterolla extend congratulations to the Senior Class from the side of their company-owned aircraft which enables better photographic service regardless of location.
Call Alfred and Fabris, (2901 West Seventh, Los Angeles 5; DU 7-2251) for graduation portraits, family groups, child studies, advertising, publicity, restoration of old photos, and candid and formal wedding pictures in black and white or color.

Portraits of Seniors in the El Recuerdo have been placed on file in our Studios and can be duplicated at any time for personal use. Write or call for information.

Gary Moffatt agrees with Wineman's assistant buyer for women's fashions, Mona Hunt, that that's just the dress for Gloria Murphy Wineman's (6351 Pacific; LU 3-1521) is the place to go for all clothing items, and their new Hi Shop on the third floor features attractive teen fashions.

Wineman's Department Store

Hargraves Stationers

"Something for your next construction project?" ask Mr. Lewis Hargraves, left, and Mr. Eugene Hargraves, right.

Dale Stirling and Wally Harris know they can't go wrong with a purchase from Hargraves Stationers (6310 Pacific; LU 5-2434), which handles the best in pens, office supplies, greeting cards, wedding invitations, and adult and children's games.

Huntington Park Bowling

"Just hold on tight and then let 'er roll," explains Mr. Vern Griffin, owner of the Huntington Park Bowling Center (2801 Slauson; LU 7-2801), to Mrs. Marion Driggers, girls' physical education instructor.

Western Typewriter

Zing goes the bar and Western Typewriter (6424 Rugby; LU 3-4337) saleslady, Ann White, has made another sale. Judy Worden discovers that Western Typewriter stocks adding machines, typewriter tables, filing cabinets and many other office supplies besides a variety of typewriters.

Raff's Jewelers

"We'll take it!" say Ruth Cavanaugh and Chuck Gonderman to Betty Feichtmayer, of Raff's Jewelers (6338 Pacific; LU 2-7386). Garold Raff, in the background, and his brother Harold, both Huntington Park alumni, are proud of their reputation for quality watches, silver, and all types of jewelry.

Sopp Chevrolet

Dr. C. E. Stirdivant, high school representative for Sopp Chevrolet (Slauson and Pacific; LU 8-1191) helps Pat Stewart from her 1959 Chevrolet Impala, which she rented for two minutes. Mr. Kenneth Sopp was himself a graduate of Huntington Park High in 1937.

Lloyd's

Lloyd's offers this staircase of attractive fashions, presented by Bobbie Helwig, top, Mrs. Marie Thomas, Dorene Brown, and Nancy Williams. Lloyd's (6819 Pacific; LU 9-5305) apparel is tops for sub-teens and teenagers.
